

ETC LEARNING HUB

The voice of English Hub members

The facilitators share ideas that are sensible and creative

The Hub? Expert guidance, resources to practice with, reading lists to go further

Why didn't I come before now!!

Lesson ideas are simulated live with us as teachers, not just 'talked about'

As a primary practitioner, I get so much from the cross-phase sessions. I tried ideas used with Macbeth at GCSE with my Year 6 class. You don't get that extra challenge elsewhere

It really helps to be reminded by other teachers that you have to be brave and try new things

The Hub is a safe space to ask questions and reach new understanding. It gives you space to construct ideas with colleagues

There is a specific focus for each session, but they also build on each other
